BILL NO. 9 OF 1961

A Bill further to amend the Constitution of India.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Twelfth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, Short title. 1961.

5 2. In Article 226 of the Constitution, in clause (1), the following Amendment proviso shall be added at the end, namely:—
of Article
226.

10 "Provided that nothing in this article shall be deemed to preclude a High Court within whose jurisdiction any cause of action arises from issuing to the Government of India any such direction, order or writ merely on the ground that the seat of that Government is not within the territories in relation to which the High Court exercises jurisdiction".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Under several decisions of the Supreme Court, it has been held that any High Court other than the High Court of Punjab cannot issue any direction, order or writ under Article 226 of the Constitution to the Government of India because the seat of the Government of India is not located within the jurisdiction of that High Court. This causes unnecessary hardship to various persons to proceed against the Government of India under that article, even if they have a just grievance. The Law Commission has recommended the removal of this anomaly. Hence this Bill.
